

Changing Structure of Whole Course to allow part time study for own learning needs/ carer needs/ disabilities while still fitting in with rules for full time funding and graduation with cohort

Author: Geoff Tookey

DeMontfort University

We did not have approval for a part time course. When investigating this I came up with 2 startling ideas that might not be that startling to others. Firstly to do what is now a 3-year course part time would take 6 years. The second was that full time students only attend for about 27 weeks a year and are then off working for agencies. The challenge was to design something that allowed 3 days a week attendance over say 45 weeks per year. This would then fit in with our current approval and regulations, which states that a student completing a year's worth of modules within an academic year is classed as full time.

Social Policy and Social Work (SWAP)

The Higher Education Academy Subject Centre for Social Policy and Social Work (SWAP)
University of Southampton School of Social Sciences
Southampton
SO17 1BJ

Printed on recycled paper